Arrangements Made to Stop Forced Liquidation Which Has Disturbed Market.

New York, Nov. 22.-The most impor tant feature in today's stock market was the discontinuance of the kind of liquidation which has kept sentiment nervous and upset for several days past. It was obvious that the circumstances which ould force so painful a process must be sufficiently serious and the reports regarding the seat of difficulty had reached a stage of great particularity. The action of the market today gave plausibility to the reports current that arrangements had been made to take care of the threatened interests and thus put a stop to the heavy sacrifices which more being made heavy sacrifices which were being made in the forcing of liquidation. The market cwed such recovery as it had to the belief in this report.

Some demand there was from uncovered shorts, but very little from any other source. The estimates of the week's currency movement showed still so considerate. erable a tide away from New York as to give warning of a possible further post-ponement of the turn towards improvement in the position of the banks. From another point of view, however, the resources thus supplied by the New York banks go to strengthen the interior banks and to prepare them for the resumption of normal operations now looked for at an early date. Reports of condition of Canadian hards in response to the offian early date. Reports of condition of Canadian banks in response to the official call to confirm the showing of the Illinois state banks as to the accumulation of cash withdrawn from New York banks in those outside of the city. There is some comment over the delay in the issuance of the autumn call of the comptroller of the currency for reports from national banks, the usual period for which is now past. There is a growing cons now past. There is a growing con-viction that responses to this call will viction that responses to this call will disclose a heavy accession of cash holdings by banks outside the central reserve usually held in New York and withdrawn from here for that purpose.

Meantime reports from the interior intimate that the banks are awaiting the restoration of normal conditions in New York before relaxing their hold on their precautionary accountains; a condition precautionary accumulations; a condition of cross purposes being implied by this situation.

It is believed that the relation of the actual condition by the comptroller's call will operate to restore confidence and break the deadlock now being prolonged by the mutual misunderstanding among the banks themselves. When bank officials perceive that their own strengthened position is not an isolated one, much will be done toward doing away with suspicion and distrust.

Importance was attached to the opening to well over $80,000,000. The basis on which the transactions with the Bank of France were concluded was not definitely disclosed, but was believed to be independent of the project to secure advances from the French bank with an implied guarantee of the United States government. The purchases of commodities for French account has increased the supply of commercial bills here and there, together with a premium made feasible by the currency premium here, are believed to offer the facilities which have been taken advantage of.

Rates for call loans were maintained today and the currency premium, while showing some relaxation, indicated persisting obstacles to securing cash for bank checks. A rise in the price of copper at the metal exchange was an incident to which some importance was attached. The day's dealings were the smallest of the week.

United States bonds were unchanged

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 22—Grain prices on the local exchange declined sharply today because of liquidation of the December delivery. At the close wheat for December delivery showed a net loss of 14,0014.

Corn was down 2%. Oats were 1% lower, and provisions 200224 cents lower.

The wheat market was nervous and prices fluctuated over a range of 2 cents.

The feature of trade was the selling of December holdings by longs. The market was weak all day with the exception of a brief period near the od of the first hour, when prices advanced approximates brief period near the od of the first ly I cent on buving by about the beautiful prices and lower.
